Celebrate Earth Day!

Earth Day is a time to celebrate the Earth and all its resources. On April 22, 1970, 20 million people across America celebrated the first Earth Day. It was a time when cities were buried under their own smog and polluted rivers caught fire. Now 36 years later, Earth Day has evolved into a world-wide campaign to protect our global environment.

You can get involved locally, by attending one of the activities listed on page 2.

For more information visit Earth Day Network at www.earthday.net

The Seasonal Yard Waste Collection will begin the week of April 3, 2006.
